RE: Ex Parte Presentation in CG Docket No. 02-278

Dear Ms. Salas:

This is to inform you that Barry Bishop, Richard Wilhelm, and the undersigned, all of NeuStar, Inc. ("NeuStar"), met yesterday via conference call with Erica McMahon and Richard Smith of the Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau, Patrick Forster of the Wireless Telecommunications Bureau, and Cheryl Callahan and Marcy Greene of the Wireline Competition Bureau to discuss NeuStar's comments filed in the above-referenced docket on December 9, 2002. Specifically, NeuStar explained that the information telemarketers need to determine whether a telephone number belongs to a wireless subscriber after the implementation of wireless local number portability on November 24, 2003 is available in the Number Portability Administration Center ("NPAC"). NeuStar, as the neutral third party administrator of the NPAC pursuant to its contract with the North American Portability Management LLC ("NAPM LLC"), manages the information sought by the Commission.

NeuStar proposes to provide a wireless number database service that would answer a query to determine if a telephone number belongs to a wireless customer. NeuStar plans to provide this service as an NPAC user, connecting to the NPAC system through a local service management system ("LSMS"), and would offer the service to other NPAC users (such as telecommunications providers), who, in turn, would provide the service to telemarketers. The participants of the meeting also discussed that due to normal processing times built into the NPAC, NeuStar's wireless database may be updated approximately 30 minutes following the activation of a wireless ported number. NeuStar also explained that the provisioning of the information would include necessary safeguards to protect confidential data.

In accordance with the Commission's rules, one electronic copy of this letter is being submitted via the Commission's Electronic Comment Filing System for inclusion in the public record of the above-referenced proceeding. If you have any questions concerning this matter, please contact the undersigned at 202-533-2912.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/
